REVIEWING CITY AFFAIRS. THE SPECIAL GRAND JURY'S REPORT.

HIGHER SALARIES FOR OFFICIALS—PERSONAL TAXA-

The Special Grand Jury of the Court of Oyer and Terminer handed to Justice Barrett, yesterday, their final presentment. Justice Barrett thanked the inry for the long, ardnons task they had performed in their investigations into the Sheriff office and the Department of Public Works and in other directions. He said that, while there had nother directions. He said that, while there had not been many indictments, yet, the nature of the investigation had been such that, not only the departments directly examined into had been and would be benefited thereby, but the good results of the inquiries would be felt generally in all the departments of the city government. The jury was then discharged.

The presentment criticises or commends several of the departments of the city government, and contains a long review of the results of the investigation into the "coupon frauds." The presentment is in part as follows:

The Commissioners of Taxes and Assessments themely a supear fully to realize the responsibility of their felty and a supear fully to realize the responsibility of their TION-THE COUPON FRAUDS.

ontains a long review of the results of the investigation into the "coupon frauds." The presentment is in part as follows:

The Commissioners of Taxes and Assessments themselves appear fully to realize the responsibility of their believes appear fully to realize the responsibility of their believes appear fully to realize the responsibility of their believes appear to be both the city and the property-owner appear to be both the city and the property-owner appear to be been to the honesty and capacity of the individual, and we doubt whether it is safe to rely on procuring the qualifications necessary for work of this magnitude and importance for salaries of $2,400 per annum. The suggestion of the president of the board that better results might be obtained from fewer deputies of a higher grade of qualification, and necessarily better paid, has the approval of this Jury.

The taxation of personal property in this city is open to more radical objections, and the Grand Jury are decidedly of the opinion that it should be aboished, for the following reasons: It is poor statesmanship to attempt the impossible, and if expert testimony is of any value the impossible. As the laws stand no one who has central of his own investments need be liable to taxation on personal estate, and the result is that a very large proportion of the tax fails on widows, orphans and other beneficiaries under will and trusts prescribing investment in bonos and mortgages, the property mortgaged also paying its full share of taxation. Still worse for the city, by mistakes and bad guesses in assessing a numerous class of exempts, bankrupts, non-residents—even decreased persons—from whom nothing can be collected, a large amount is added to the valuation and made the basis of State as well as local taxation, the amount of which is a total loss to the city. There were, on the 30th which is a total loss to the dip. There were, on the 30th which its far paying interest on the money borrowed to pay the State in anticipation of practically worthless,

The jury believe that the application of the Civil Service enactments will be of great importance in improving the administration of the city's business.

Appended to the presentment is the report of the expert accountants, Mr. Tate, on the Carroll fraud, by which it appears that the total overpayment was $158,170, the last occurring in fAugust, 1882, since when none have been discovered. On May 31, 1884, the outstanding debt of the City and County of New-York was as follows: Total funded debt, May 31, 1884$131,499,029 33 Less amount thereof in sinking fund..... 39,011,262 78

The jury find no evidence of the fraudulent issue of city bonds.

A WATER FAMINE IMMINENT.

COMMISSIONER THOMPSON ASKS THE PUBLIC TO USE CROTON CAREFULLY AND NOT TO WASTE IT.

Chief Engeneer Newton, of the Department of Public Works, has addressed a communication to Commissioner Thompson, calling attention to the fact that in many parts of the city where the pressure in the water mains has always been comparatively low, it is now so much reduced that the water does not rise above the ground floor. He

With the constant delivery from the aqueduct of about 200,000,000 gallons per day into the enty reservoirs, the water level in the reservoirs has been lowered two feet five inches from May 12 to June 10, showing a large excess of consumption over the delivery from the aqueduct. A continuous of this state of affairs, will lower period. simption over the delivery from the aqueduct. A tinuance of this state of affairs will leave parts of the confinance of this act of any result in most serious con-city without water, and may result in most serious con-sequences in case of a large fire. This bureau has used all the means in its power to detect and suppress waste of water, and without the co-operation of consumers in stopping waste, the evils resulting from a further de-crease of pressure, caused by continuous waste, es-pecially during the hot season, cannot be averted.

Acting on this, Commissioner Thompson issued an ddress to the public, in which he says:

Acting on this, Commissioner I nonpson issued an address to the public, in which he says:

The Department is using with the utmost vigor and vigilance the authority and means at its command to limit the waste of water by the application of water meters, the inspection of water fixtures in houses, the night inspection of house drains, the stoppage of the water supply to ornamental fountains, the appliance of waste-saving fixtures to drinking fountains, the revocation of permits to use water through hose in wassing sidewakes and house fronts, and in every other possible way. All these measures will not avail to aver the perils of a continuous decrease of pressure in the water supply unless the public shall rise to and act upon the appreciation of the fact that they must employ the same care in the use of the water which they employ in the use of any of the other necessaries of life. A continuance of the present waste of water by consumers means total deprivation of water supply to certain parts of the city; inadequate pressure and supply for extinguishing fires; paralyzation of industries; danger to the public health, and loss of comfort and convenience to every household. I state these facts in order to place them before the public in the most impressive manner, and to ask the cooperation and assistance of the people and of the several branches of the City Government, especially the police. In the efforts of the Department to save the city from the dangers of the situation.

A GRAY VETERAN'S GLORIOUS DEATH. THE LAST CHARGE OF MORRISANIA'S ANCIENT

GOAT, SAMUEL J. TILDEN. GOAT, SAMUEL J. TILDEN.

Samuel J. Tilden, a gray and decrepit goat, who many years ago, in the summertide of his life, swayed the destines of all the small boys and peanut dealers in Morrisania, is no more. He was elected by an uprising of the authorities to the Public Pound, and he bore ever afterward on his venerable flank the direful marks "P. P." Sammy had become so old that his friends had counted him as out of the gay and innocent society of other Morrisania billies until last Saturday night, when the elderly and horned goat developed such a mine of wickedness that the police of the Thirty-third Precinct went gunning for him with army revolvers.

mine of wickedness that the police of the langthird Precinct went gunning for him with army revolvers.

Antonio Perugoni Sporza, the sole proprietor of an apple and banana stand at the junction of the Southern Boulevard and Third-ave., has customers who have the evil habit of throwing banana skins on the stdewalks. Sammy has often found a delectable repast on the skins, and has eyed the tempting bunches of the rich red fruit with a covetous eye.
On Saturday A. P. Sporza found it necessary to leave his stand and enter into converse with the bridge-keeper. He returned in ten miautes and found Samuel J. Tilden demolishing the stem of a bunch of bananas which had been appraised by Mr. Sporza at $1 85. Sammy was reasoned with by means of a bale-stick which induced him only to charge upon Mr. Sporza and to land him finally fon the top of his peanut stand.
Then Sammy proceeded to masticate the banana stem, The cries from the midst of the stand brought Officer Malcahy to the scene of the conflict and Sammy was confronted with the majesty of the law. Nothing daunted, the veteran goat charged Mulcahy and put him torout, chasing him until the policeman took refuge within the bridge roundhouse. Then Sammy sat on the door-sill wagging his horns at the officer until "the limb of the law" unlimbered his revolver and discharged seven halfonnee bullets into his body.

Bananas and lead did not seem to mix well, for Samuel J. Tilden suddenly died. But the fame of his heroic deeds will be noised abroad and the onslaught of Samuel J. Tilden on the majesty of the law will remain a by-word of courage in the annals of Morrisania.

EX-PRESIDENT BLANCO'S PLANS.

Ex-President Blanco, of Venezuela, who arrived in this city on Monday, will remain at the Windsor Hotel for about a week before going to Washington, Niagara Falls and Newport. When called on by a Taibune reporter yesterday, he was found dressed in a neat suit of dark clothes, with a purple cmbroidered fez, or smoking-cap, on his head. With him in the parlor were a number of handsome men and women of the dark, South American type, his family, and travelling companions. He expressed obligations for the courtesy of the salute fired in honor on his arrival, and said that he always felt the friendliest feeling for this country. Two banquets have been tendered to him, one by South American merchants, and the other by South Americans and others. The latter will take place at Delmonico's on June 17, and the former is set for Venezuela, will be unveiled in Central Park on June 13. The statue of Bolivar, the liberator of Venezuela, will be unveiled in Central Park on June 17, and the ex-President, who was instrumental in the gift of the statue, will take part in the exercises.

him. He told Levy of the discovery, and the young man made a full confession of his guilt. Levy went to his home, No. 327 East One-hundred-and-nineteenth-st., where he showed much agitation. In the evening he hired a room in Hall's Hotel in Chatham-st., registering as "S. Montague, of Newark, N. J." He wrote a letter to Mr. Friedlander, thanking him for his kindness, and saying that he could not live to face a disclosure of his crime. He also wrote to his mother. After posting the letters he shot himself through the head. His death was not discovered until yesterday, when Mr. Friedlander received the letter and sent a messenger to the hotel. The letter to his mother declared his purpose of killing himself. His father, who is a commercial traveller, is absent from the city. In his note-book was the following:

TO ALL YOUNG MEN: Beware of temptation, and de not want that which is not within your reach, for it is a bade ending you will surely come to as I do. No mere in this world.

FINED $500 FOR SELLING SWILL MILK. FINED $500 FOR SELLING SWILL MILK.

Louis C. Moyer, who, with his father and brother conducts a dairy farm at Blissville, Long Island, was on trial in the Special Sessions Court vesterday charged with bringing swill milk into the city. Dr. John B. White, sanitary inspector, was the complainant. He visited the farm on May 10, and found thirty-one cows secured in stancbions. The animals were in a miserable condition. They had stubby tails, almost devoid of hair, their hoofs were swollen, their eyes protruded and were watery, and their horns were rotting. The inspector saw a hogshead filled with foul-smelling swill, over which a quantity of grain was strewn. The cattle were then allowed to feed from the cask. Ten of the wagons owned by the prisoner was stopped, and the coents of three milk cans were subjected to an analysis. The fluid was found to consist of $8.32 per cent of water, 3.06 per cent of fat, and 8.62 per cent of other substances. There were no solids present. The testimony showed that the milk was liable to produce scrofula, diphtheria and blood poisoning. A general denial was put in, but the prisoner was fined $500, which he paid under protest.

LOOKE FOR A FAITHLESS LOVER.

LOOKE I FOR A FAITHLESS LOVER.

Rockville tentre, Long Island, is considerably agitated over the sudden disappearance of Ernest T. Kesseler. His handsome face caused a good deal of trouble in many a household in the village. He was a constant attendant at the village church, and there made the acquaintance of Miss Josephine Langdon, the eighteen-year-old daughter of Joseph Langdon. They attended church together, and it was generally understood that they were engaged to be married. On Sunday Ernest called, as usual, and took Miss Josephine for a walk, and when they returned Mr. Langdon demanded that "Ernest should wed Joe right off." Josephine was satisfied, but Ernest wanted a few days in which to consider the matter. The father insisted on an immediate marriage, but Ernest promised to return Monday morning at 9 o'clock. At that hour "Joe" was ready for the wedding cerenony, but Ernest failed to appear. Mr. Langdon started for Hempstendand got a warrant for the arrest of Kesseler, and a constable is now looking for him in New-York. It was rumored that Kesseler was already a married man. HOW LAGER BEER IS POISONED. HOW LAGER BEER IS POISONED.

The Board of Health yesterday received a brass fancet which had been in use for some time in a beer shop and afterward cut in two lengthwise. Deposits of verdigris were disclosed on the inside of the fancet along its entire length. It was said that lager beer contains enough free acid to corrode the metal fancets, which in turn poison the beer. The brass fancet holds as much as a beer glass, and unless the flow from a keg is steady, the beer may have been exposed to the verdigris long enough to be impregnated with the poison.
